Dedication

To Miss Grace Lee Pinel, who has so untiringly devoted all her efforts to fan the flame of enthusiasm in Flint Central high school's every activity; has acted not only in the capacity of Dean of Girls, but also as adviser and friend to all—to her we proudly dedicate this, the 1930 Prospectus.

*A door to learning made in every part
A ready equal to some Gothic art.*

*Then from our tower's height the world below,
Seemed made of barren limbs, and roofs of snow.*

*Old ivy walls made new with icy dust,
And barren branches white with downy robes.*

*Through fine construction was its beauty wro't,
Each brick implanted with a noble tho't.*

*Frosty little brook, are you not happy there
Sparkling like a diamond in your great snowy muff?*

*A shaft, so tall and straight against the sky,
Expressed its power in a cloudy sigh.*

*And who, we wonder, does not well to own
A friend and neighbor such as we have known?*

*Snow burdened shrubs, grey post tops piled with white,
Once gallant gateway smothered well from sight.*

*Midst formal urban beauty, yet apart
This noble frame seems built in Nature's heart.*

*Their windowed towers clear and wondrous tall
Rose from the blocked out pattern of it all.*

The Book

FIRE and light. How necessary they are to our existence. Fire is the embodiment of enthusiasm and ambition; light—the more steady flame of knowledge and wisdom. Because they are such vital forces in the life of the student, the 1930 Prospectus has tried to give a lasting impression, within the pages of this volume, of the progress of light—from its crude, primitive beginnings to the splendor of its twentieth century incandescence. As it has grown, so Education has had its growth. It is a process of improved illumination.

Flint on wood produced the first spark of light—a process which the name of our school and city immortalizes—and the other stages of light followed; crude fire torches, whale oil lamps, flickering candles, the wick lamp of yesterday, and finally the incandescent lamp; the golden anniversary of which paid glowing tribute to its inventor, Thomas Alva Edison—who, because of his intense desire to make this a better world, has brought improved heat and light to the homes of mankind.

Education, too, has advanced through the mazes of time until, like heat and light, it also has made the greatest industry and the humblest home a more habitable place in which to work and live.

As Christian stumbled falteringly—although surely—on his way toward the heights, so Youth, eager to learn and to do, aided by Ideals and Faith, plods on to his summit of achievement. This book would depict that progress—it would do more, for it would thank those who have made this progress possible.

It is our earnest intent that the light which this Prospectus sheds upon your Central High School days will help you to realize your opportunities—help you to see your high school as a brilliant pageant; with its pathos, its happiness and its golden store of memories.

NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY
THE MEDILL SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM
EVANSTON, ILLINOIS

Like the campfire whose warm red glow brings contentment and the joy of companionship to the circle gathered 'round it, the High School Annual radiates much of the happiness of school life, including its activities and friendships.

This book should brighten the days of all who read it--especially in years to come. An album of remembrance--such as THE PROSPECTUS--will be useful if it acquaints students with one another's interests, if it encourages participation in school activities and enterprises by recording their endeavors and progress. The volume will assuredly strengthen loyalty to the school by awakening pride, and by building an ambition to achieve.

Like the fire and light which are the theme of THE PROSPECTUS the book itself is sure to add warmth to the story of school days, and prove its right to a place near the hearthstone of memory.

Congratulations!

Sincerely yours,

H. G. Harrington
Director

LIGHT and fire are ancient symbols for wisdom and enthusiasm. The 1930 Prospectus could not have chosen a more fitting theme to represent the Spirit of Central. Wisdom without enthusiasm is ineffectual. Enthusiasm without wisdom is dangerous.

The Spirit of Central strives to be a fine combination of the two. Through the thirty-two years of its publication the Prospectus has had no small part in keeping our torch burning brightly and has each year helped to hand it on to succeeding generations of students.

It is with genuine pleasure that I see this book take its place in the long line of its predecessors.

C. V. COURTER

WHEN you find a school set in spacious, well-kept, beautifully landscaped grounds, with playgrounds, athletic fields, graveled drives and inviting walks, whose studied architecture blends with its surroundings, and that is clean, cheerful, and challenging within; when that school has a student body that is motivated by worthwhile purposes, that is guided by fine ideals, that is in the grip of steady loyalty, and that is fired with high enthusiasms; when the school has a faculty that is sympathetic, understanding and helpful in its contacts with youth, that places the needs of youth above all else, and that finds its work with developing a joy and not a task,—there is a great school. It is from such a background that splendid achievements spring. Such a school sheds its light upon an entire community.

MISS FLORENCE RIDDELL

Our assistant principal, Miss Florence Riddell, came to Flint Central in 1923 as Dean of Girls. Three years later she became assistant principal in charge of boys, a position for which, because of her knowledge and appreciation of the ways and ideals of boys, she is well fitted. With the exception of a summer school of graduate study at Columbia University, Miss Riddell obtained her education in Omaha, Nebraska, in the high school and university. Here she was made a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma, a national sorority.

She first taught in Manchester, Iowa, where she later became principal. From there she went to Rockford, Illinois, where, after teaching Latin in that school two years, she came to Flint Central.

MISS GRACE PINEL

Miss Grace Pinel, our very capable Dean of Girls, received her high school and college education at Kalamazoo, graduating with an A. B. degree. She was a member of several local societies, one of which was a traveling musical organization. Her first teaching experience was obtained at Howell where she was an instructor in Latin and French. While there she coached basketball and sponsored several clubs. Coming to Flint Central in 1924 she taught Latin and directed activity for two years. Then she became Dean of Girls, the position she now holds.

Class of '30

THE history of the Class of 1930 is not unlike a candle, whose slow burning represents the passing of three years of high school life.

The newly lighted flame suggests the class just entering upon its high school career as Sophomores. At the beginning of the year these Sophomores elect Virgil Groom to lead their class, with Kenneth Degan, Ned Knapp and Raymond Bugbee filling the other offices. Two of these officers leave after the first semester and in their places Robert Hetchler and Lunetta White are elected. In all the activities, football and basketball games, parties and entertainments, the enthusiasm of these Sophomores makes up for whatever they may lack in experience.

The candle although burning more brightly is shorter now and the Sophomores have become Juniors. A new set of leaders are chosen to head this class—Robert Hetchler, Jack Rutherford, Ned Kapp and Geraldine Graff. The class has added to its list of accomplishments the successful production of the Junior play "The Road to Yesterday" as well as an enjoyable Junior-Senior party. Its members have also been well represented in music, athletics, dramatics and all the school's activities.

The officers for the Senior class are Robert Hetchler, Jack Rutherford, Geraldine Graff and Stanley Hodgson. In spite of the fact that the candle has now almost reached the end, its flame is still as bright as ever. The Senior play, "White Collars" is a triumph. In scholarship, leadership and in everything that goes to make up high school life, the Class of 1930 proves itself worthy of the name of Senior.

Throughout the hurried activities of commencement week the candle sputters busily. Commencement night it gives a final brilliant flare,—then goes out. However, just as the life of this candle represents only a small part in all the history of light,—so these three years of high school life cover only a short period in the history of the Class of 1930.

Prophecy

HE SAT in his armchair, a newspaper on his lap, the radio beside him playing soft music and the fire blazing between shadowed andirons. It was natural that his mind should turn to thoughts of his old friends in the Class of 1930 because just that afternoon he had seen Doug Hill (he recognized Doug, in spite of his long hair and whiskers) giving an impassioned oration from the top of a soap box on Michigan Avenue. Then, upon reaching home, he immediately noticed the glaring headline in the Journal about the raiding of a notorious night club owned and operated by Conway Magee!

These two reminded him that within the last week he had seen Paul Probert, walking the streets with a hungry look on his face. Paul told him that he had kept his last job almost a week and only had been late three times!

He also had seen recently Donna Brackney. While driving through the country he had stopped at her road-side stand to buy some vegetables. Donna said that her husband, Bob McVay had raised them himself on their little truck farm.

Wondering how many other classmates he could account for, he happened to recall a recent conversation with Jim Richards (Jimmy is now coach at Central and still turning out first class teams.) He said that Ronald Mueller had gone back to his old home town—Blooming Prairie—where he was minister in the little Free Methodist Church.

It was rather difficult to picture Ronny as a minister, but no harder than picturing Bob Hetchler in the role of a collector of rare works of art. However, only a short time ago there had been a paragraph in the newspaper about Bob's sailing to Italy for the purpose of adding to this collection.

The thought of Bob Hetchler reminded him of Jack Rutherford. He had heard that Jack was in San Francisco but that was the extent of his information. However, in the faint hope of learning more about him, he turned the dials of the radio to San Francisco and then switched on the television. It was queer how often you did see people you knew, that way! The scene that met his gaze was a corner of a dark, stone-walled room. The only visible objects were a wooden bench and a figure bearing the number 313, seated upon it. He was horrified to discover that this figure was Jack. His horror soon changed to relief, however, when he learned from the announcer that the audience was just receiving a glance at Jack before he entered his race for Olympic honors.

After watching Jack run, he turned the dials to New York and was just in time to hear the announcement of an act from Lewie Kaufman's 1949 Follies. A troupe of chorus girls then tripped across the stage and there, as head chorus girl, was none other than Della Scott!

Following this act was a dance program by the famous dancer Mlle. Marie Prahl. She modestly claimed that her present fame as a dancer was entirely due to the expert direction of her dancing-master, L. Z. Riegle!

When this program came to an end his glance fell on the forgotten newspaper. His attention was immediately drawn to a small paragraph in which he caught sight of Jack Collobay's name. Upon reading the article he learned that Jack was in Reno suing for a divorce on the grounds that it was proving too expensive to keep Marguerite happy.

On the same page was an advertisement for an exclusive beauty parlor run by Miss Borgny Harem. It showed a picture of Borgny in a white apron, still looking important and efficient.

There was also an advertisement for "Ye Olde Antique Shoppe," located just this side of Clio. He had driven past this place many times and knew that its proprietress was Carol Smith!

His perusal of the newspaper was interrupted at this time by a startling announcement from the radio. The listeners were about to be favored with a short talk by Miss Jane Gundry. Not having heard her name, it certainly would have been hard to recognize Jane in the role of the stern, strict dean of a young ladies' seminary who appeared, by means of television, to give the talk.

Besides those already mentioned there were three members of the Class of 1930 about whom most everyone knew. First, there was R. Devere DuVall, famous motion picture producer and successor to Cecil B. De Mille; second, Harold Higgins, Chicago's most dreaded gangster, and, last but not least, in the White House—the former Miss Genevieve Williamson,—first lady of the land!

It was hard to imagine all the old classmates as they were today.—But then, people probably would have a hard time picturing him, Lester Preston, a contented bachelor spending the evening at home in his armchair beside the fire!

Class of '31

WHEN a large group of Sophomores wended their way to this school two years ago, those gods of light, who guide the destinies of all men, sat up and exclaimed in amazement.

Said the god of Lanterns, who had guided these youths through the early stages of enlightenment, to the god of Electricity, who rules in realms of greater educational light, "My reign will soon be ended for this material has passed out of the dim light of ignorance to stand in the splendor of your illumination." And his colleague answered, saying, "Truly spoken—they will achieve."

The lantern that was to guide this successful class was first handed to them, dimly lighted, in September, 1928. Each of them could not carry the lamp so they elected Lewis Kearns for that honored position, which is to say—president of the Sophomore class. To make sure that the lamp would have the best possible care Donald Decker was made vice-president, Mary Tracy, secretary and Irving Benison, treasurer.

The first party of that memorable year was given by the Sophomores! It was quite a successful affair—at least it didn't put the lamp out! However, the outstanding event of the year happened at the class sing when the class's characteristic cooperation won first prize for the best yell and second prize for the class song.

The official lampbearer or president of the Junior Class is Max Carpenter, with George Cranston, vice-president; Maxine Martin, secretary, and again Irving Benison, treasurer.

Many of the Juniors took part in the annual Kaleidoscope this year—doing very well, indeed. One of the outstanding events of 1930 was the Junior play, "Little Old New York." It was given with unusual success. With the many fine parties and other things they did, it was quite a glorious year for the class. And now—most of them are Seniors, ready to carry on this process of increased enlightenment—to pass from the Lantern Stage into the Era of Electricity.

HELLO Everybody! This is station 1932 speaking. Being just a new station on the air, it seems as though we are due for some hard work, to try and impress upon your progressive minds that we are capable of successfully participating in many activities. And now for the best part of our program: the introduction of four famous people, our renowned class officers.

First, among this group of highlights of our history, I wish to introduce to you Arthur Bush, president of the sophomore class. Arthur has made himself popular with the entire student body by his many activities and his good work. Among other things was his participation in the Kaleidoscope plays and other dramatic activities.

And now, ladies and gentlemen, I will present another officer of our class, who upon opening his eyes on this world was blessed with the given name of Albert, and the surname of Stull, which together formed the delightful name of Albert Stull. Albert has been in the limelight of the school since he arrived.

And now, may I throw the spotlight on the one girl officer of our class: Helen Atwood, secretary of the sophomores. Helen has done much for her class. She wants you to know that she can do more than write "minutes." She is an all around good student and we believe she will progress rapidly.

Last but not least, I wish to present the large figure of an important man, the treasurer of the sophomore class, David Cuvrell.

"I happened to be walking down the hall one day and I noticed Jimmie Richards, (you know, our tall, husky, football Captain) with David. Jimmie was busily engaged in holding David up so that the water fountain could be safely reached. Sounds funny but it's true."

Now that you have met our officers I will tell you more about our class. We have been in the Arrow Head headlines since we first entered Central in 1929. The sophomore parties were among the list of successful social ventures. The next time you hear from our station, we will probably be well versed in the ways of the school.

Station 1932 signing off until next year.

Student Council

THE Student Council is the governing body of all the school's activities and enterprises. This year the council gave money to the Orchestra for orchestrations and awarded monograms to the Band. The Finance committee presented a budget for the Student Union and created a student reserve fund. The Student Council also financed the printing of the student handbook.

Quill and Scroll

THE Quill and Scroll Society was founded at the University of Iowa, April 10, 1926, as a non-secret honorary society for student journalists. It was organized with the purpose of recognizing and rewarding ability and achievement in writing and other phases of journalistic work in the school.

The name of the local chapter is the Press Club, sponsored by Homer M. Barlow, instructor in journalism. The purpose of the club is to instill in the students the ideal of scholarship; to advance the standards of the journalistic profession by developing better student writers, and by inculcating into the high school newspaper staff a higher code of ethics. Fundamentally, it is to promote exact and dispassionate thinking and clear and forceful writing.

Students who have made outstanding journalistic contributions to school publications are voted into the club. The Scandal Sheet, an annual edition of the Arrow Head, is edited by the Press Club.

Hi-Y Club

THE Hi-Y is a Club of boys, who strive to create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community a high standard of Christian character. Their ideals are clean sport, clean speech, clean scholarship and clean living. Working upon this four-fold basis the Hi-Y club performs many worthwhile things for its school.

An interesting initiation ceremony is held each year at the Y. M. C. A. Among the club's activities is the Christmas relief work. This year the Hi-Y members gathered food, clothing and toys for fifty needy families. Local stores and the Bureau of Social Service aided the Hi-Y in their relief work. The Hi-Y also compiles and prints a student handbook and directory each year with the aid of the Student Council.

The Blue Triangle

THE Girl Reserve Triangle is a significant part of an international movement for girls, and is the only high school organization having no restriction upon membership. Rings are awarded to girls deemed worthy, in their senior year, as a constant reminder for maintaining the Girl Reserve Code of living through life.

The officers of all Triangles in Genesee County convened at the Y. W. C. A. Camp late in September for a week-end conference. The initiation banquet was the most impressive ceremony of the year. The mid-winter conference was held this year in Detroit, and the discussion groups in which all the girls were active proved to be of inestimable value to them.

Delta Epsilon Alpha

DELTA Epsilon Alpha is strictly an honorary public speaking society. The membership is made up of students participating in dramatics, debate and oratory. Students who have taken a leading part in either a long play or two one-act plays, or have participated in two winning debates or have performed outstanding work in oratory, are eligible for membership.

This club is a chapter of the national Delta Epsilon Alpha. Meetings are held every two months. Besides the active members, the club has a graduate membership of thirty-three.

Belle Masque Club

THE Belle Masque Club has many activities. A three-act play is presented by the members each year for the Parent-Teachers' Council of the city. Two trips are taken to Detroit each year to see some outstanding dramatic production. The club also entertains the Junior Play cast annually.

Membership is limited to thirty members. To be eligible for membership, a student must have an average of C in all subjects and be active in the dramatic work or productions of the school.

The purpose of the club is to associate those in the school most interested in dramatic activity and through its program to make such activity even more interesting.

Skipper's Club

THE Skipper's Club, which is a chapter of the national honorary society, Alpha Sigma Epsilon, was organized in 1927 under the sponsorship of Principal J. E. Wellwood. The club is composed of boys who hold the highest student offices. Its membership is automatic and includes only the following officers: president of Student Union; presidents of the senior, junior and sophomore classes; and the highest ranking boy on each of the school publications, the Arrow Head and Prospectus.

It is the purpose of the Skipper's Club to aid in the co-ordination of all student organizations in maintaining the highest ideals of the school.

Each member retains his membership until graduation. The Skippers are given council names upon initiation into the club.

Latin Club

THE Latin Club, organized to encourage greater interest in the classics, has just brought to a close one of the most successful years in its history. A variety of programs, including stories, talks, and Latin games, has made the meetings especially enjoyable.

Each member is called by his Roman name during the meetings. All Cicero and Vergil students are eligible for membership.

French Club

THE French Club has been reorganized this year to give the French students of the school an opportunity to become more familiar with France and the French language.

In the programs of the year the club has touched lightly on the literature, art, music, and geography of France. Each meeting has been divided into three parts: the first part devoted to the business meeting, the second to the evening's program, and the third part to a social hour.

The program committee has made it a point, during the year, to have outside speakers whenever possible. In this way, talks about France and Europe have been given to acquaint the members of the club with Europe as it is today.

Spanish Club

EL CIRCULA Espanol (The Spanish Club), an honorary society, was organized in October, 1928, under the sponsorship of Miss Thelma Potter.

The purpose of the Club is to better acquaint Spanish students with the country whose language they study. Membership is obtained by students who receive an average of "B" in Spanish. Meetings are held twice a month, being both educational and social.

Last year's outstanding social function was the party given at the Y. W. C. A. to which non-members were invited. Several members of the faculty, who have been to Spain, and guest speakers have addressed the club. Pamphlets, charts, and posters have been secured for the members to study. The club colors are red and yellow, the colors of the Spanish flag.

Poetry Club

"Come, read to me some poem
 Some simple and heartfelt lay
 That shall soothe this restless feeling,
 And banish the thoughts of day."

THE Poetry Club is composed of girls who have shown by their work special enjoyment in the field of literature. All girls who are interested in poetry and have a high standing in English may become members. The purpose of the club is to study the history, elements and perfection of verse.

This year contemporary poets and poetry were studied. Several members wrote original poetry which is kept in the Club Poetry Book. The members also collected poetry and compiled attractive poetry notebooks. Roll call is answered by a favorite quotation. The last meeting of the year is the June Picnic at which the officers for the coming year are elected.

Thalian Honorary Literary Society

THE Thalian Honorary Literary Society limits its membership to thirty-five girls, who have high scholastic standing and are interested in literature and composition. Meetings are held every other week.

At the regular meetings, reviews on the life and works of a prominent modern author are given. One program is divided among three members: one member reports on the writer's life, another on his works, and the third person acts as Student Critic. This year the annual serial was entitled, "The Triumvirate." This is a story of school life and activities and was written by the seniors in the club.

Various committees are chosen—the membership committee, initiation committee, and the program committee. "Open Door Meeting" is an annual event held in June. All the faculty and other clubs of the school are invited to attend this meeting at which book reviews, plays, poetry, and original compositions are given. The last meeting of the year is a May Morning Breakfast at which the officers of the coming year are elected.

Biology Club

REALIZING the benefit of united effort in a deeper study of plant and animal life, honor students of Biology organized themselves into a Biology Club in 1926 under the sponsorship of Mr. R. G. Voorhorst.

Since then this club has sponsored a number of contests among which the bird feeding and bird house building figured the most prominently. Each winter groups of boys feed many birds at the campus station across Gilke Creek.

Several interesting talks were given by various members of the club on National Parks. The most outstanding was the report on Yellowstone National Park and Columbia Highway.

Meetings are held twice a month under the sponsorship of Mr. Henry J. Wheater, instructor in Biology, to promote a greater student interest in the subject of Biology and a greater social unity in the Biology groups.

Mathematics Club

THE purpose of the Honorary Mathematics Club is to broaden the interest of students in advanced mathematics and to increase the appreciation for the background of mathematical processes.

The club was established in 1922 under the guidance of Mr. J. E. Wellwood, Mr. Clarence Suiter and Miss Sally Lindell.

The meetings are held twice a month and a program consisting of interesting reports is presented at each one. To climax the activities of the year, a picnic is given each spring.

Four committees are appointed at the beginning of the school year: the attendance committee, the refreshment committee, the program committee, and the initiation committee.

Juniors and seniors with a "B" average in mathematics are eligible to membership.

Art Club

THE Art Club was reorganized this year under the sponsorship of Miss Agnes Smith. The aim of the organization is to further art appreciation among high school students. The meetings are both social and educational. A new constitution was drawn up by the members and adopted by the club.

There are four committees that plan and carry out the activities of the club: initiation committee, program committee, membership committee, publication committee. The club's mock initiation is always the same. It requests that the initiates wear windsor ties around their necks for a period of one week.

"LITTLE OLD NEW YORK"

Junior Play

HISTORICAL characters such as John Jacob Astor, Washington Irving, and Cornelius Vanderbilt appeared in the annual Junior Class Play "Little Old New York," directed by Mrs. Helen Hardy Brown. The story took place in the early nineteenth century. Frances Higgins and Barbara Harris alternated the leading role, giving very different impersonations of the same character, and each succeeded remarkably well. The acting of the entire cast was of very high quality.

"WHITE COLLARS"

Senior Play

ALWAYS one of the outstanding events of the year at Central high school, the 1930 senior class play was staged with even more than the usual fine success that play enthusiasts of Flint have come to expect of the seniors every year. "White Collars" was the three-act comedy presented this year. When William Van Luyn, young millionaire real-estate dealer, fell in love with his pretty secretary, Joan Thayer, and after their marriage went to live with her family, many complications resulted. The Thayer family, according to Cousin Henry, formed a part of "that great middle class," called the "White Collars." The play was directed by Miss L. Adeline Pierce, public speaking instructor. Douglas Hill, student union president, was general manager of the production. Several committees composed of senior class members had responsible duties behind the scenes, and had much to do with the success of the play.

Debate

THOUGH Central high school's debate team did not gain any state recognition, the 1929-30 squad set the finest record of any Red-Black team during the last three years. The first team won three of five debates in the preliminaries of the state contest, debating on the subject, "Resolved: That a Judge or Board of Judges Shall be Substituted for Petit Jury in All Municipal and State Courts in Michigan." Flint Central won from Saginaw Eastern, Bay City Central, and Lansing Central, losing to Royal Oak and Flint Northern.

First Team—John Hufton, Charles Brownson, Douglas Hill

Second Squads—Romily Prouse, George Coffeen, Lewis Kaufman, Paul Schagne, Ben Bryer, Arthur Bush
Coach.....Mr. Carroll Clark

Speech Contests

Judges in the local oratorical, declamatory and extemporaneous contests experienced a real task in selecting the three students who were to represent Central high school in the sub-district eliminations, including Flint and vicinity. These candidates received individual help from Miss L. Adeline Pierce, public speaking instructor. Lewis Kearns came through to win the honor of Central's representative in oratory and Arthur Bush in declamation. Charles Brownson represented Central in the sub-district extemporaneous speech contest.

Opera

"RUDDIGORE" or "The Witch's Curse" was the Gilbert-Sullivan opera presented this year by Central High School music students under the direction of J. Monroe Langlo, music instructor, and Miss L. Adeline Pierce, dramatics coach. About 150 students from three departments of the school, music, art, and home economics, were connected with the production. Colorful old English costumes and scenery were made by students in the art and economics classes supervised by Miss Agnes J. Smith and Mrs. Christine Stombaugh, respectively. The musical ensemble of "Ruddigore" as a whole was finer than any of the seven operas presented at Central in past years.

Mott Class Sing

THE sophomore class smashed an ancient custom at the annual Mott Class Sing last year to win first honors in the yell and second place in the song, while the seniors sang their way to a first place and gained second in the yell. A sad day for the juniors! The events were judged by unity of presentation, spirit in keeping with song or yell, in-tuneness, and body of tone.

The annual Class Sing is the one occasion during the year when the entire student body is assembled together. The impressive ceremonies of the sing were presided over by Carolyn Hughes as May Queen, attended by Evelyn Schumaker, Joe Hurd, Berenice MacGregor, Raymond Goodrich, Frances Lee, Ronald Mueller, Jean Dimond, Jack Rutherford, Doris Bahr, Lewis Kearns, Mary Tracy, George Donald.

George Cranston was Master of Ceremonies for the program, which included the Central band and glee club, entrance of the May Queen, and the songs and yells by the three classes.

Commencement

Commencement week activities of the 1929 graduating class began with its annual dinner dance held in the ballroom of Durant hotel. On Baccalaureate Sunday, services were held in the First Presbyterian church with Dr. Kearns, pastor, in charge. Music on this occasion was furnished by the Central High school A Cappella Choir.

The Class Night exercises were held out-of-doors one June night on the Oak Grove campus. The traditional lantern march was as impressive a sight as ever, the little red and black lanterns shedding a soft glow over the long line of caps and gowns which wound among the trees of the campus. Near the close of the evening Herbert Milliken, president of the graduating class, presented the Lantern to Robert Hetchler, junior class president, and charged the juniors to keep it burning throughout the ensuing year.

Commencement exercises were held in the Whittier auditorium on Thursday evening, June 13, 1929. Superintendent of schools C. V. Courter officiated. The program included a procession, invocation and benediction by Rev. Walter R. Fruit, special musical numbers, address by Lloyd C. Douglas, D. D., presentation of senior class for graduation by Principal J. E. Wellwood, and conferring of diplomas on seniors by Dr. Henry Cook, president of the Board of Education.

Fine Arts Union

The Fine Arts Union, which includes the orchestra, band, choir, opera chorus, Delta Epsilon Alpha, Belle Masque, Art club, Press club, Thalians, Latin club, and Ballet chorus, was originated in 1928 by Jacob A. Evanson, music instructor, for the purpose of creating a consciousness that the fine arts form a very important phase of student life in Central high school, and what is more important, of life in general. The union is not actually an organization itself, but functions as any other part of the Student Union while emphasizing the fine arts in particular.

Presidents of the various fine arts organizations form what is called an executive committee, which meets occasionally to discuss activities of the union. They are Raymond Biggar, Harold Ferguson, Harold Higgins, Mary Tracy, Douglas Hill, Ned Kapp, DeVere DuVall, Avis Scofield, Margaret Wellwood, Veva Lyons, and Conway Magee.

The Fine Arts Ball, recognized and looked forward to by students of Central as the one big social affair of the year, has undoubtedly established itself as an annual tradition.

Kaleidoscope

FAST-MOVING and brilliant, the annual fall Kaleidoscope was put across with characteristic "wim and vigor" that allowed not a dull moment during the entire two-hour presentation. Nearly 300 students from a dozen departments of the high school were actively connected with this all-school production. Miss L. Adeline Pierce of the faculty was general chairman of the Kaleidoscope. The speed with which the acts were on and off the stage was a source of amazement to the audience from the first word of the Master of Ceremonies until the final curtain. The Kaleidoscope is an established tradition in the life of Central high school. George Cranston, most popular "Red-Black" among boys in the school, was Master of Ceremonies at the Kaleidoscope. Something new in Central's history was attempted this year with fair success, the production of a one-reel amateur movie of student life, which was shown at the all-school entertainment.

Band

THE greatest Red-Black Band in the history of Central high school represented Flint in the National High School Band Contest held here May 22-25. This colorful group was "right there" at the football games, out-of-town and home alike, with music, drill, and its famous "Boom-a-licka, Bow Wow!" to encourage a fighting grid machine and entertain the bleachers. A noisy little pep band made things interesting at the winter basketball games. The concert band played on several civic occasions for local audiences. The "Tooters" were invited to act as camp band at the Citizens' Military Training Camp at Camp Custer, near Battle Creek, this summer.

A Cappella Choir

FOR two years considered "America's finest," the Flint Central High School A Cappella Choir journeyed to Chicago and sang at the Music Supervisors' National Conference last March, the third such national recognition the choir has received in as many years. At the concert presented in the magnificent ballroom of the world's largest hotel a hearty ovation was given the singers by 5,000 music critics from all parts of the United States and a small number from several foreign countries. Several programs were sung for civic organizations in Flint and vicinity, including Jackson, Albion and Mt. Morris, and the group participated in the state contests.

Central's Football Leaders

CAPTAIN JIMMY RICHARDS

AN experienced coaching staff had a big hand in the success of Central's athletic teams during 1929 and 1930. Each of the four coaches had had previous coaching experience before coming to Central.

Head coach Dan Fisher began his coaching career at Smithville high school in Smithville, Missouri, a few months after his graduation. Fisher remained at Smithville for one year and then moved his quarters to Albion to coach the Albion high school team for two years. Fisher's football, basketball and baseball teams won Class B championships in the state for two consecutive years. The Red-Black mentor completed two years of coaching at Central this year.

Stan Broome, who handles all minor sports at Central, graduated from the University of Michigan six years ago. The year after his graduation he took over the coaching reins at Central and his baseball teams have won the Saginaw Valley championship every year he has been here.

CAPTAIN-ELECT RAY VINCENT

Assistant coaches John Rebol and Leonard Simonson coached high school teams in Montana and Minnesota respectively after completing successful college careers. Rebol graduated from Dubuque college and Simonson came from St. Olaf College.

Ray Vincent will captain the 1930 football season, succeeding Jimmy Richards. Vincent played quarterback for two years and won his letter both times while Richards was an end for two years.

Football Summary

CENTRAL'S gridders managed to finish on the right side of the books during the 1929 season, winning five games, tying one and losing three. The Red-Blacks won their first four games of the season but a few days before the Arthur Hill game Captain Jimmy Richards was lost to the squad because of a leg injury. The team held the Saginaw eleven to a tie, then lost to Saginaw Eastern and Pontiac before Richards returned to the lineup. With the Central captain back in the fold the Red-Blacks beat Redford and then lost to Northern.

To climax the 1929 season several Central aces were mentioned on various all state teams after the season had finished. Included among these are: Jimmy Richards, end, Bob McVay, full back, and L. Z. Reigle and Ed. Bowers, tackles.

FLAG RAISING OPENS FOOTBALL SEASON

RICHARDS BEING CHASED OUT OF BOUNDS BY DETROIT NORTHERN BACKS

The Season

CENTRAL (38)

M. S. D. (0)

A green inexperienced Central eleven opened the 1929 season with an easy 38 to 0 win over M. S. D. The line looked fairly good and the green backfield performed well but a few difficulties remained to be ironed out. In the backfield McCredie and Best, both newcomers, starred, while Bowers, Reigle and Captain Richards were the bright spots in the veteran line.

CENTRAL (7)

ST. MICHAEL'S (6)

Fighting from the first whistle to the final gun, St. Michaels' battling team threw a scare into the Central camp and held the Red-Blacks to a 7 to 6 win. Reigle's dropkick for point after McVay had scored a touchdown was the margin of the Central victory. The Mikes scored their touchdown on a pass, Callahan to Hofstetter. Minardo's attempted place kick fell short of the bar. The contest was a battle of the air, both teams resorting to passes. McVay and Hershey starred for the Central team.

BEST SCORES TOUCHDOWN — DETROIT NORTHERN

CENTRAL (24)

DETROIT NORTHERN (0)

Detroit Northern came to town with a weak line and a fairly strong backfield. Not being able to penetrate the Central line the Detroiters resorted to the passing end of the game. The short aerials brought the ball inside the Central five yard stripe in the first quarter, but the Red-Blacks took the ball away on downs and employing a straight rushing game swept through to score four touchdowns. Hershey's intercepting of two Northern passes put the Red-Blacks in a position to score two of the four touchdowns.

ROYAL OAK (0)

Completely bottling up Captain King, Royal Oak's great offensive ace, Central took an easy decision from Royal Oak by a 29 to 0 count. Captain Jimmy Richards scored three of the Central touchdowns. Berger scored a Central touchdown and Reigle accounted for the other five points. He kicked a field goal and two points after touchdown.

ROYAL OAK LINE STOPS McCREDIE

ANOTHER TOUCHDOWN! — DETROIT NORTHERN

CENTRAL (7)

Minus the services of captain Jimmy Richards and Les Schmier, regular guard, Central's gridders invaded Saginaw Arthur Hill and by a great display of fighting spirit held the Saginaw team to a tie. The Red-Blacks were robbed of a victory only by a lucky catch that catch that Russ Knipple, Arthur Hill end, made to tie the score at 7 all.

CENTRAL (0)

Featuring Ted Petoskey, an all state end, Saginaw Eastern handed the Central gridders a 26 to 0 defeat. Petoskey was in on every play, smearing nearly every Central formation before it got under way. Eastern scored twice in the first quarter, and again in the second quarter. The Red-Blacks clamped down on the visitors in the last half, allowing them but one touchdown.

ARTHUR HILL (7)

SAGINAW EASTERN (26)

BIGLER OF PONTIAC CIRCLES CENTRAL END FOR LONG GAIN

LINE STOPS JEREMY OF PONTIAC

CENTRAL (7)

Pontiac high school's speedy backfield was largely responsible for Central's second defeat of the year, by a score of 19 to 7. Long runs by Jeremy, Bigler and Krohn proved Central's undoing. In the absence of Captain Richards, McVay bore the brunt of the Central offense. After McVay scored Central's touchdown he was carried from the field because of a badly injured leg.

CENTRAL (7)

With Captain Richards back in the lineup, Central defeated Redford 7 to 0. Central completely stopped the Huskies' offense. After Mueller passed 20 yards to Marken, the latter ran eight for a touchdown. The game marked the return of Captain Jimmy Richards who had been out of the four previous games because of an abscessed leg.

PONTIAC (19)

REDFORD (0)

RICHARDS NABS PASS — DETROIT NORTHERN

MUELLER STOPPING SUPAK OF FLINT NORTHERN

NORTHERN (6)

For the second time in as many years Flint Northern's gridders copped the city football championship by beating Coach Dan Fisher's eleven, 6 to 0. Northern won through the medium of Frank Mitoraj's sturdy right toe. Mitoraj was comparatively unknown before the game, but afterwards Northern supporters praised him to the skies.

Central's only chance for a tie score came early in the fourth quarter when Richards and McVay led an attack that carried the ball from the Central 30-yard line to the Eskimo eight yard stripe only to be stopped by some faulty field generalship. Richards, Reigle, Valentine, Bob Patterson, Bowers, Parrish and McVay concluded their high school careers in this game.

SUPAK'S PUNT GETS AWAY SAFELY IN FLINT NORTHERN-CENTRAL GAME

Basketball Summary

ALTHOUGH starting the season with five letter men from the 1928-29 team, Central's Red-Blacks failed to enjoy a fruitful sojourn into state basketball circles. For the first time in years, Central had more losses to her credit than wins. Many defeats, however, were by single point margins.

A brilliant defense was characteristic of Central's play throughout the season—a defense that was partly broken up by the loss of Richards by graduation in February. The return of Joe Piazza in the second semester somewhat compensated this, and the team returned to normal again.

A smooth offense was unleashed at times, but in most of the games there was an obvious need for an accurate basket shooter. To this one fact can be laid most of the responsibility for any defeats handed to the Red-Blacks during the season.

THE SEASON

CENTRAL (19)

DETROIT EASTERN (7)

Central's cagers opened the season with a decisive win over Detroit Eastern.

CENTRAL (20)

REDFORD (19)

Captain Bob Patterson led the Red-Blacks to a 20-19 victory over Redford on the latter's court.

CENTRAL (22)

ST. MICHAELS (12)

Central encountered little difficulty in winning the first game of the city title series from St. Michaels by a 22 to 12 count.

CENTRAL (23)

SAGINAW EASTERN (25)

In a furious overtime contest, Flint's Red-Blacks lost their first Saginaw Valley start by two points on the Saginaw court.

CENTRAL (19)
BATTLE CREEK (22)

Although Ron Mueller scored eleven points against Battle Creek, the latter defeated Central by a close margin.

CENTRAL (17)
NORTHERN (25)

Central could not overcome a large lead that Northern rolled up in the first half, so the Eskimos walked off with a 25 to 17 victory.

CENTRAL (22)
SAGINAW ARTHUR HILL (21)

The Red-Blacks registered their first win over a Saginaw Valley opponent through the medium of Ronnie Mueller's basket in the last minute of play.

CENTRAL (18)
PONTIAC (24)

By virtue of a superior passing attack, Pontiac defeated Central.

CENTRAL (14)
BAY CITY (15)

Central was barely edged out in a game which was almost entirely defensive.

CENTRAL (18)
JACKSON (30)

Central lost by a large margin to last year's state champions.

CENTRAL (19)
SAGINAW EASTERN (13)

Central evened up the season's series with Saginaw Eastern by beating the Damberg proteges, 19 to 13.

CENTRAL (14)
LANSING CENTRAL (15)

Reck's basket in the last ten seconds of play robbed Central of a close decision.

CENTRAL (11)
ARTHUR HILL (37)

Hindered by the cramped condition of Arthur Hill's court, Central met with the season's greatest defeat at the hands of a team with an uncanny basket shooting ability.

CENTRAL (15)
ANN ARBOR (23)

An undefeated Ann Arbor quintet almost met its match at Central. The game was closely contested until the last quarter when the University City broke away from the locals.

CENTRAL (14)
NORTHERN (12)

The second clash for the city championship saw Dick Evans, sophomore guard, crash the Northern defense for seven points to lead his team to a well earned victory.

CENTRAL (11)
BAY CITY (16)

The Red-Blacks closed their Valley season by defeating Bay City in a strictly defensive battle.

CENTRAL (22)
NORTHERN (20)

The Red-Blacks ended Northern's athletic supremacy in city circles by winning the basketball championship.

REGIONAL TOURNAMENT
CENTRAL (24)
SAGINAW EASTERN (20)

Central's cagers broke a five year jinx by downing Saginaw Eastern in the first round of the regional tournament at Saginaw.

CENTRAL (17)
SAGINAW ARTHUR HILL (23)

For the second consecutive year, Central entered the regional finals but Arthur Hill wrecked Central's hopes.

Track

A POWERFUL Central track team swept all before it during both the indoor and outdoor track season in 1930. With several veterans around which to mold an able array of thinclads, Coach Stan Broome developed a winning team.

Cross Country

CENTRAL'S cross country squad completed the past season's competition quite successfully by winning the first meet from the team from Fordson and losing the regional to Flint Northern by one point. Captain Jack Rutherford, state champion, ran away from the field to win first place.

Swimming Team

ALTHOUGH eight of the nine swimming meets were lost, the swimming season at Central was not a complete failure as the Red-Blacks scored an impressive victory in the season's most important meet—that with Northern which the Red-Blacks won by a 56 to 8 count.

Gym Team

COMPOSED wholly of veterans from a successful campaign in 1929, Central's 1930 gym team displayed a marked technique in all its performances to place third in the state gym meet.

The team, coached by Harry Cooper, a former Central acrobatic star, includes: Floyd Cooper, Ray Hickock, John Morris and Harry Tittenson.

1929 BASEBALL TEAM

Baseball

CONTINUING the good play of previous Red-Black baseball teams, the Flint Central nine won the Saginaw Valley title for the fifth consecutive year. Coach Stan Broome had only three lettermen from the 1929 team but he developed a host of players that had come to Central from the junior high schools of Flint.

Sam Piazza, a pitcher, Huston McKell, a catcher, and Louis Steckley, an outfielder, were the Central lettermen. At the end of the regular playing season Sam Piazza was elected honorary captain of the team.

Unlike last year's team, this year's squad has a host of men around whom Stan Broome can build a winning team. Included among these are Vincent, a catcher, Joe Piazza and Booth, pitchers, Goodall, Marken, McVay and Cranston, infielders and Myernick, Bowers and Marton, outfielders.

MARKEN TAKES A CUT — AND HITS IT!

1929 TENNIS TEAM

Tennis

FIVE Flint Central tennis players who last year tied with the Northern "racketeers" for first place in the city title race are back again to help make the 1930 season the best at Central since the sport was inaugurated. The lettermen are Packard Hopkins, Ronnie Mueller, John Notman, and Bill Harris. This year's team is strengthened by the addition of George Burroughs, city junior champion last year. The team for the first time will have a home court.

Golf

PROSPECTS for a golf team of state championship calibre are good at Central this year because of the return to the team of a number of veterans of last year's club-wielders.

1929 GOLF TEAM

Girl's Hockey

THE seniors, who were the champions of the 1929 hockey season, won every game except one which they lost to the sophomore A team.

Girl's Basketball

THE juniors won the interclass championship this year having won six games. The sophomore B team lost only two games and won four, while the sophomore A team lost four and won two. The seniors lost all their games. A basketball banquet sponsored by the Girl's Athletic Association closed the season.

Flint

By JENNINGS L. BURTON '30

PART THE FIRST

At the site of many waters
 Lakes and brooklets, ponds and rivers,
 Dwelt our noble friends the red men,
 Lived they here in peaceful numbers
 By the waters of the river.
 Greatest name they called the river,
 Smoothly gliding, flowing river,
 Called they this their friend the river,
 Flint they named it as an honor.
 Flint, the rock that scattered sparks out;
 Flint, that made their winter's fire glow
 Flint, the thing that kept them living.
 Every night around the campfire
 Near the campfire by the river
 Chanted they its name in praises
 Told they stories of its honor.
 Of the country that it passed through,
 Of the deep dark woods it flowed through,
 Of the things that it had witnessed.
 Told they these around the campfire
 As the sparks shot up to heaven.
 Told they these the noble red men.

PART THE SECOND

Came the era of expansion.
 Far across the big blue waters
 Restless grew the men of Europe;
 Wanted they another country.
 Came they here homes to establish,
 Came they here the hunters, trappers,
 From across the deep blue waters
 In their white winged, big canoes.
 Came they here the many white men.
 After years of pioneering,
 Found they then the land of waters,—
 Found they then the big Michi-gan,
 Found they then the winding river.
 Here they settled as a township
 And established here a village.
 Flint, they called the little village,
 Flint, in honor of the river
 Of the silent, winding river
 That flowed slowly through the village,
 Ground their grist and gave them water.
 Called they Flint, the little village;
 Flint, in honor of the river.

PART THE THIRD

Years have passed by since the village
Was established by the river,
Slowly flowing old Flint river.
Years that show a steady increase,
Years that show a marked improvement
In the customs and industry
Of the city by the river.
Banks that once o'er hung with foliage
Now are bordered by the factories—
Noisy, growling, rumbling factories,
Crashing, shrieking signs of labor,
Whirring sounds of new industry.—
Gone away long since the red man,—
Stalking, silent, stoic Indians,
Yet the name that they once gave it,
Gave the smoothly flowing river,
Still is revered by the people.
Flint the name that's known world over
"Motor city" now they call it
For its many moving products.
Flint, the city of industry
Busiest of the northern cities.

PART THE FOURTH

In a grove of ancient oak trees,
Near the center of the city,
Not far from the winding river
Builded they a mammoth building,
Built a high school for their offsprings,
Builded they this school; the white men.
Now five days of all the week days
Go they there the high school students,
Go to Central, best of high schools
Go there now to gain some knowledge
From the pedagogues who teach them.
Best of all in athletics,
Best in scholarship and studies,
Best in every thing is Central!
Better than all schools and high schools
Is this great Flint Central High School.
And through all the coming decades
There will spring from out of Central
Future doctors, lawyers, teachers;
Just as sure as from the forest
Sprang Flint city by the river
Smoothly gliding, winding river.

Class Will

We The Senior Class of Central High School of Flint in the County of Genesee and State of Michigan, being of sound mind and ample memory do make, publish and declare this to be our Last Will and Testament, in manner following, viz.:

First we will and direct that all our just debts and expenses be paid in full.

Second, we give, devise and bequeath to all the minor students of Central the many exciting adventures which always befall every senior student when he comes up to the final reckoning and is found wanting.

Article I. To the class of '31 we, the dignified Seniors, do solemnly pass on the aged lantern whose glow has so faithfully guided us during our prolonged years at Central. Keep the wick trimmed and the chimney clean!

Article II. To all the inmates of Central who remain behind us, we hereby bequeath all various shapes, sizes and forms of chewing gum (the aforesaid gum in a pliable condition) to Carl Sharp. Thru experience we know that he is capable of assuming the responsibility of this invigorating duty.

Article III. Bob Hetchler sorrowfully leaves to Art Bush all his famous "female" leads. Try and be a lady, Art, for Bob has set a good example before you!

Article IV. Bob Patterson leaves to Ray Patterson all the pancakes which were cooked over the fires of enthusiasm at the Central-Northern Football game.

Article V. Leonard Winegarden must pass the task on to Charles Brownson of keeping the Arrow Head Office in a quiet, peaceable condition.

Article VI. Floyd Lynn leaves to David Cuvrell the pleasing sensation of knowing how to live longer than most people. Mr. Lynn bequeaths this recipe on "How to Grow Tall" to his sophomore friend.

Article VII. To the Junior Class, we do solemnly leave our famous book entitled "How to Win Class Sings."

Article VIII. Don Russell cheerfully bequeaths his "Pride of the Junkyard" to Ronald Scott. We hope his majesty will enjoy the varied experiences that will befall he who drives his aged Chariot down thru the blinking traffic lights.

Article IX. Catherine Lewis donates all her "Lowney's Fudge Bar Wrappers" to Helen Cole with high hopes that the sophomores will guard them well. Just a little start toward your Senior-Junior Party.

Article X. Virginia Shaw passes on to Carl Switzer those happy, quiet memories in Miss Armstrong's Study Hall!

Article XI. Jack Rutherford leaves his "All Talking" home room period to Johnnie Rice. "Are you sure you're a Junior, John?"

Article XII. Alice Schindler, Helen Train and Lela Moore hand over their cares of the candy stand to Ellen Reilly, Arlene Henderson, and Barbara Harris. Girls, don't eat up all the profit!

Article XIII. Lunetta White solemnly gives up all her themes to Virginia Beagle! Sh! don't tell anybody, Lunetta got them from her brother.

Article XIV. Bob Shaw gives up his extemporaneous noon hour programmes to his able assistant, Don Kinesman.

We hereby appoint "Pop" Newland of Flint, Genesee County, Michigan, Executrix of this our Last Will and Testament.

Lastly, we hereby revoke all former wills by us at any time made.

In witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and seal this First day of June in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty.

SENIOR CLASS OF 1930 (Seal)

On this First day of June 1930 A. D. the Senior Class of Central High School in the County of Genesee and State of Michigan signed the foregoing instrument in our presence, and declared it to be their Last Will and Testament, and as witness thereof we do now at their request, in their presence, and in the presence of each other, hereto subscribe our names.

Miles To Mother

Me deer Mother and pap.

i think thet as you have paid sum of my bills heer at the grate Central High Skule, thet perhapze i hed better write you all an pamphlet telling u of my skule year hear.

Hit have been suksessful to the gratest extent and i hev learned a lot. I only failed in four subjechts having passed in jym and aktivity on the grade of "D" which stands fer diploma.

At ferst hit were hard for me to keep up living ex-penses but atter a while i got a job of digging up old wells and selling them for post holes. This i did in the P. M. and on Saturdays when there wern't no football games. I wuz sick fer quite a spell and our vice prin-cipal advized me to interview the skule docter. So I did. he says ter me he sez, "Ezray You got the Locomoter Ataxia in a bad way." I up and sez sez I, "Dock, yer not right. I haint got no car but ifin I did I would buy me a Chevrolet." He givez me sum pills which made me sicker and weller after a hard pull.

I no thet you will be interested ter know thet they serve ice kream heer in small dough funnels. I nearly wored my toungh out trying ter get the kream out ov the bottum until one day a friend ov mine told me thet they wuz not pasteboard but wuz cookie and good ter digest.

I wuz goin ter jine the orchestray until i seed that they played their fiddle by sum kind ov sines called notes and atter that i wuz content with playin at home alone.

But all in all the year wuz a grate suksess and it are my earnest hopes that when the next year of learnin comes along, thet I won't be left plumb out but kin help make cintrel a much better skule.

Well i will kloze fer this here time and ifin nothing Happens i will write ye again soon. As sever yer luvin sun,

Success Seen In Scenic Section

Ladies and gentlemen, stu-pids of Central, members of the faculty and in fact everyone interested. I take up this here space just to tell you all that it is my pleasure to re-splain to you some of the things that make this school annual such a big success.

For one thing you will not in any way find my picture inside the covers of this book more than four times. There is no separate comic section, unless you count the photograph section and the sports are worth any man's time to read.

The scenic section brings out the clear beautiful lines of our building, and the exquisite surroundings of our own dear campus is faithfully portrayed in the lovely natural tints. Of course you know that we moved all ash cans, waste paper, and sleeping tramps because their luminary contours would have been awe-inspiring to the gentle minds of our subscribers.

The humor and especially the jokes are of a likeable nature. We tried to pick out those that had been well established among the student body so that the most fastidious of souls among you would enjoy the effects of their time tried points.

Hours of time were spent vainly trying to pick out a theme but at last, as a suggestion of the gas company and several local firemen, we arrived at the conclusion that fire and light would be as good a topic as any for several reasons; the main ones being that fire is necessary to cook potatoes, and the high rate of light bills is the subject of many a heated discussion.

After a theme was chosen we had to have a staff, so instead of whittling one out of hickory wood we chased in several of the best mathematics students and let them figure out how to run the annual by the simple binomial process of advanced algebra. Our friends of the Arrow Head made a lot of bother, and putting all in all together you can very plainly see why the Prospectus is the best year book South of the North Pole.

You Are Much Obliged.

Tell us not in snoreful slumber life is but a dream.
Some folks think that common lumber is churned from milk tree cream.

I'd rather be the last rose of summer than be the last guy to get on a crowded street car.

Ye Calendar

BUICK-

—and in America, people buy more than twice as many Buicks as any other car priced above $1200.

WORLD-WIDE PREFERENCE

MAP © Geo. F. Cram Co., Indianapolis

Day after day, while the motorists of America are buying twice as many Buicks as any other car priced above $1200, fast ships and trains carry other thousands of Buicks to Europe, to Australia, to the Orient, to all parts of the world. And back from these places come letters—like those reproduced below—saying the same fine things about Buick that you hear in America.

It takes this kind of car—IT TAKES A BUICK—to win the praise of the world as Buick has won it in increasing degree throughout a quarter-century. It takes the impeccable beauty of Bodies by Fisher. It takes known performance leadership. It takes flawless reliability. It takes the all-round value that you know you get in the Buick car.

You want a new car this spring. You think mighty highly of Buick. World-wide preference, expressed in Buick's dominant sales leadership over any other fine car, assures you that you are right!

1 I have been running my Buick continuously for 11 years and have made 285,000 miles without repair. It is the most wonderful car anybody can get. It is the first 7-passenger car that came to Syria—and the oldest car—but it's running every day.

M. W. Fadellab, Tripoli, Syria

2 I have driven many cars but I have never had so much satisfaction as I get from the 1930 Buick. It is simple, it is marvelous.

Mme. Jane Zander, Brussels, Belgium

3 I own a 1927-1928 Buick model and assure you that in regard to features, operation, material, comfort and attractiveness, it is one of the best cars to be found the world over.

A. George, Central Soledad, Guantanamo (Oriente) Cuba

4 You will be pleased to learn that before I owned a car I pledged myself to own none other but a Buick; and I will, whenever I can afford it, own no other.

W. N. Clarke, Kingston, Ja., B. W. I.

5 I have owned various motor cars during the last 15 years and have derived satisfaction from some. I may frankly state, however, that my "happiness" has been complete since January, 1926, when I bought my Buick 26-47 from your dealers in Mexico. This car has not given the slightest trouble, has always been ready for service and although it has covered 78,500 kilometers, is still in excellent condition.

Joaquin M. De Uriarte, Engineer, Puebla, Puebla, Mexico

6 I have been using Buick cars for several years and it gives me pride to state that I have always been highly satisfied and have always preferred this make.

Joseph Cardoze, Curacao, D. W. I.

7 I am very much satisfied with the performance and service which I have derived from this car, which, as you rightly state, is recognized as unexcelled the world over.

V. Echeverria D., La Guayra, Venezuela, S. A.

8 My first Buick was purchased in 1920. It served me seven years and was in good condition when I turned it in on another Buick in September, 1927. I may live to buy another though I am pretty old (78th year), but if I do I promise you it shall be a Buick.

T. C. Wills, Honolulu, Hawaii

9 According to very recent statistics of the Shanghai Municipal Council, it is stated that out of every six cars one is a Buick. Moreover Buick owners are mostly the leading men in China. They have hereby signed their honorable names recommending the new car to the Chinese public.

—From a testimonial signed by twenty of the leading statesmen, bankers and business men of China.

10 You can imagine in what regard I hold Buick's performance and quality. I have given the name of my favorite car to my favorite Arab race horse.

CALL IT PRIDE IF YOU WISH—

The fact remains; this store has won the good will, the confidence of the public on the strength of the reliable Jewelry and honestly regulated prices. We are proud to boast of this—

Likewise, when you buy a diamond and a watch or any other piece of jewelry, you want it to be something you can be proud to show and boast of—

Pride is a fine principle in the make-up of human nature, and is a good guide to be regulated by. You can satisfy your pride in the purchase of jewelry in this store that prides itself on the quality and value of its wares.

"Who wrote 'Hamlet'?" asked the teacher of little Bobby.
"I didn't do it—I didn't do," Bobby protested.
That afternoon the teacher met Bobby's father and told him the joke.
"The little imp," mumbled the father, "I'll bet he did do it."

The tin roof of a store in Kansas was ripped off and rolled into a bundle by a cyclone. The owner tied some bailing wire around the ruin and shipped it to Henry Ford. In due time came a letter saying: "It will cost you $39.50 to have your Ford repaired. For heaven's sake, tell us what hit you."

"This is a great country, Mac."

"And how's that?"

"The paper sez yez can buy a foive dollar money order for six cents."

---

Bridegroom: "Have you kissed the bride?"

Best Man (absently) "Oh, yes, hundreds of times."

"Change Spark Plugs every 10,000 miles!"

Old spark plugs rob a car of power—waste fuel—cause hard starting, poor idling, and slow pick-up. That is why any car needs new spark plugs every 10,000 miles. Spark plugs wear out. Even if they continue to function, the spark is weak, and the motorist does not get full power from his fuel.

AC is the spark plug for modern engines, because of its patented one-piece, gas-tight construction. It is better because of its welded side wire electrode—which has 35 times better electrical conductivity than a side wire inserted by the old "staking" method.
